INTRODUCTION

The year 2008 marks the 100th anniversary of the first issue of the Florida Historical Quarterly. Over the past century the Quarterly has published a wide variety of articles concerning Florida history, and many of them have been about the Seminole Wars or subjects closely related to those conflicts. For those of us who study the Seminole Wars, the Quarterly is a treasure trove of valuable information. In order to assist those researchers who wish to mine this wonderful resource, the Foundation has put together this index of articles that have appeared in the Quarterly that pertain to the Seminole Wars. We hope you find it useful.

The index is organized in a semi-chronological order. This seemed the most useful method. We could have used alphabetical or volume order, but neither of those methods seemed to bring any order to the chaos. Some articles covered large time spans and are located where they appeared to fit best. Other articles are grouped together if we felt the subject matter warranted. Although we feel this is a complete list, we would not be surprised to discover that we had missed an article or two, primarily because the title did not suggest a connection to the wars.

If you or your local library does not have a full collection of the Florida Historical Quarterly, do not despair. With the exception of the last five volumes, the entire collection of the Quarterly is available on-line at http://palmm.fcla.edu/FHQ. Good hunting!

Finally, we would like to thank Dr. Sam Smith and Frank Laumer for their assistance in compiling and reviewing this index.

John & Mary Lou Missall

John and Mary Lou are authors of the book The Seminole Wars: America's Longest Indian Conflict published by the University Press of Florida. They are editors of This Miserable Pride of a Soldier: The Letters and Journals of Col. William S. Foster in the Second Seminole War published by the Seminole Wars Foundation and the University of Tampa Press. They are also editors of This Torn Land: Poetry of the Second Seminole War, published by the Seminole Wars Foundation. They have been members of the Board of Directors of the Seminole Wars Historic Foundation since 2002.

The Seminole Wars Foundation

The Seminole Wars Foundation was founded in 1992 with the goal of preserving sites significant to the Seminole Wars, establishing educational programs to disseminate information about the wars, and to publish books and other matter pertaining to these important but little understood conflicts.

To that end, the Foundation has published seven books, several pamphlets, and its members have given numerous talks throughout the state. The Foundation has also preserved the site of Fort Dade, and been instrumental in the preservation of the sites of Camp Izard and Fort King.
